Predicts Deficit Decrease

Treasury Secretary Discloses Improved Financial Outlook Before House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey foresaw today a sharp cut in a 2½-billion-dollar deficit predicted for the government in the coming fiscal year, or even perhaps a balanced budget.

Humphrey disclosed the government's improved financial outlook for the bookkeeping year beginning a week hence in testimony prepared for the House Ways and Means Committee. "We hope and believe," he said, that the government can get along on a temporary one-year extension of the public debt limit at its present 281-billion-dollar level.

Humphrey said "our present promising business and international outlook" is the foundation of his optimism that there is no need for a more permanent higher ceiling.

Humphrey said he would take on the "very difficult task" of living within narrow borrowing margins for the coming year in part to set the nation "an example of economy and prudence."

He injected a precautionary note about the use of credit in the present business boom, saying: "We believe at this time of great prosperity that all of us—government, business, and individual alike—should exercise self-restraint in the use of public or private credit and the accumulation of debt."

"Today, Americans are enjoying new peaks of prosperity—of employment, production, and income—setting new records all along the line. Only a year ago there was reduced activity. These swings in economic activity should remind us of the need for wisdom and restraint as well as courage in both private and public affairs."

AEC Denies Russia Tested Atom Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission indicated today it has had no evidence of a major atomic test by Russia in almost two years.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, a nuclear scientist formerly connected with the government's atomic bomb development program, says, "It now can be revealed that the Soviets conducted at least two super-bomb tests this spring."

Writing in the current issue of Life magazine, Lapp said the first of the two tests occurred in April and that Japanese scientists found evidence in fallout samples. The second shot, Lapp said, was in May when "nongovernmental scientists in the United States picked up strong radioactive indications of it."

In response to a question based on Lapp's assertion the AEC said: "The commission has consistently followed a policy of informing the American people of its tests of nuclear weapons and of tests in Soviet territory."

"There has been no change in this policy."

The last announcements on Soviet tests were made in August 1953, when the AEC confirmed the claim of Russia to have conducted a thermonuclear explosion. The AEC said on Aug. 20 that on Aug. 12 a test had been made of material involving both fission and fusion (hydrogen or thermonuclear) reaction. Two weeks later the AEC said there had been a fission-type explosion in Russia which appeared to be part of a series of tests. It said it would not make separate announcements on each blast in the series.

Mix-Up Overhead

This cool spell is welcome after our initiation into summer sultriness. Did you notice that the clouds couldn't seem to agree on direction?

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 64, 71 at 1 p.m., and 70 at 2 p.m. Rainfall to 1 p.m. .06 inch.

The temperature one year ago today, high 98, low 69; two years ago, high 100, low 69; and three years ago, high 97, low 77.

Considerable cloudiness with scattered showers and thundershowers tonight and Saturday. Low tonight near 65; high Saturday near 85.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 56.4 rise .1.

Sacks Over the Meters—

Appreciation Day Bargains Bring Large Crowds to Town

Friday, the first of the two annual Appreciation Days sponsored by the Retail Merchants Division of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, really brought crowds to town for the many special bargains offered by stores. Every direction were people with bundles big and little.

There were places to park, too, with merchants and their employees cooperating by staying away from the paper bags over the parking meters which meant free parking for customers.

New Outbreak In Gangster War Tactics

East St. Louis Club Sprayed With Bullets By Unknown Person

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—The front doors of a night club owned by Frank (Buster) Wortman, reputed rackets boss sought for questioning in a gang-style killing, were sprayed with bullets early today.

Seven bullets lodged in the heavy wooden swinging doors of the Terrace Lounge here. A small portable-type window in one of the doors was shattered.

An arrest order was issued yesterday for Wortman by authorities investigating the slaying of J. Fred Koenig, convicted black market operator and former St. Louis politician. Koenig's bullet-pierced body was found stuffed in the trunk of his Cadillac car parked on a street here late Wednesday.

Chief of Detectives Alfred Bott said the person who fired the shots at the Terrace Lounge today apparently stood on a sidewalk in front of the place and "blasted away."

The bullet-scarred doors were noticed about 5 a.m. by an agent for a burglar alarm business who was checking to see whether the night club was properly locked. The agent said the bullet holes were not in the doors when he visited the lounge a short time earlier.

Police quoted the widow of the slain Koenig as saying he operated a "clearing house" service on horse racing information at their home until April 1.

Police said Koenig had protested vigorously and openly about getting a "raw deal" in being forced out of the operation. They expressed belief this may have led to the slaying.

Koenig's widow, Grace, said she last saw her husband alive at a night club operated by Gordon Foster, a nephew of Wortman. Foster said Koenig left the club without his wife.

Elmer (Dutch) Dowling, an associate of Wortman, surrendered to St. Clair County Sheriff Leonard O. Reinhardt at Belleville yesterday but was released after he was questioned one hour.

He said he did not know Koenig and had no connection with gambling or racing news. He said he has not seen Wortman for a week or 10 days.

Police also are seeking Birney T. Havey Jr. and Kenneth Mueller, friends of Koenig. Cars of both men were shot up a month ago and Mueller was wounded.

They left the area, but returned to East St. Louis early this week. Police Capt. Virgil Baltezer said Havey telephoned him last night and indicated he and Mueller still were in the St. Louis area. But, Baltezer said, Havey declined to come to the police station until he has talked with an attorney.

Two Soldiers Leap From Speeding Train Handcuffed, One Dies

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Two young soldiers, handcuffed together, leaped from a speeding passenger train today. One was killed and one was seriously injured.

Pvt. Gary V. Winn, 18, of Cleveland, Ohio, died instantly. Pvt. Ronald J. Sickles, 19, of Cohoes, N.Y., was seriously injured.

Two Army guards said Winn and Sickles broke away from them as the train sped toward Ft. Campbell.

They were being returned with another prisoner from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., on charges of being absent without leave.

They were found on the roadbed about 25 yards from their point of impact, still handcuffed.

Still Seek Hit, Run Driver of Death Car

TUSCUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Search continued today for the driver whose hit and run car killed a Ft. Leonard Wood soldier yesterday and seriously injured another.

A coroner's jury found yesterday that Pvt. Lonnie G. Uman, 17, was killed by a car driven by an unknown person. Pvt. Richard Midkiff was with him when they were struck from behind.

The Highway Patrol reported today it had no clues in its investigation.

Another Bumper Harvest

Wheat Crop Though Less Than in Past Two Years, Still Over 10-Year Level

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Missouri is harvesting another bumper wheat crop.

It probably won't be as big as those of the past two years which averaged 40,500,000 bushels, but it is certain to be far ahead of the state's 10-year average of about 23,000,000 bushels.

Except for parts of the state there are reports of high yields. Last year the state averaged 31 bushels an acre, the second highest in the United States. Alfred G. Brittain, federal agricultural statistician, indicated in his latest crop report the 1955 yield would be only a bushel or so below the 1954 record.

"It looks like a pretty good crop—and the farmers need it" was the observation of L. C. Carpenter, state commissioner of agriculture.

Best yield reports are coming from central Missouri. First of the Boone County crop ran 38 bushels and growers estimated later deliveries would bring even higher yields. Elevator operators believe last year's records of 60-bushels an acre will be equalled.

The first wheat cut in Cole County averaged 45 bushels. Richard Wagman of near Bogard in Carroll County reported 50 bushels.

With the northward movement of the harvest in the state, there have been reports of uniformly high quality, bearing out an observation of J. Ross Fleetwood, extension field crops specialist at the Missouri college of agriculture.

Fleetwood says good yields and good quality go hand-in-hand—you seldom have one without the other. Reports of grain testing up to 63 pounds to the bushel have come from Buchanan, Platte, Boone, Vernon, Livingston, Pettis and Carroll counties.

Southeast Missouri, which came up with a whopper of a crop last summer, is in the midst of another good harvest, but it won't come up to 1954. Growth of the grain was retarded somewhat by the March freeze.

Around Poplar Bluff yields are expected to average between 30 and 35 bushels. The lower yield is explained, in part, by the fact the kernels are smaller than the average. In some areas the freeze and the recent rains are expected to cut the yield as much as 50 per cent.

Sedalia CAP Cadets Receive Plane Ride In General's Craft

Three boys from the Sedalia CAP Cadet Squadron received a two-hour plane ride in the private C-47 airplane of the national commander of the Civil Air Patrol, Maj. General Lucas V. Beau. They are cadets Charles Whitehouse, Benie Sands and David Curry. They, along with nine other Sedalia cadets, are attending a one-week encampment at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., for CAP cadets.

The boys received their plane ride in the commander's plane as a result of it being there for the encampment. While aloft, they received instructions in the plane's operation and had any questions answered which they might have had.

Capt. Jack Kehl of the senior Sedalia squadron accompanied the cadets to the encampment, returning Tuesday evening. The cadets will be flown back to Sedalia via military aircraft on Sunday.

Some Say Unpalatable—

Soda Pop Purchase Brings Official Wrath Against Navy

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators heard testimony today that the Navy made "excessive expenditures" for a soda pop mix that most sailors regarded as "unpalatable."

Chairman Holifield (D-Calif.) of the House Government Operations subcommittee said the deal "reflects a lack of control over procurement generally" by the Navy.

William Ellis, chief of investigations for the General Accounting Office, said the names of three principals in the deal have been turned over to the Justice Department.

Holifield said the three were invited to appear at today's hearing but each declined "for one reason or another."

The whole deal cost the Navy $177,660, Ellis told the subcommittee. He said 13 Navy ships headquartered at Seattle each got 200 cases of the soda pop mix.

And, he said, "a serious question was raised as to the utility" of this beverage. Many sailors regarded it as unpalatable.

Under questioning by Holifield, Ellis added "we were told there was very little demand. The steward showed a distinct disinclination to take the stuff aboard."

Three Navy witnesses replied that there was nothing wrong with the naval procurement policies, that any fault lay in the individuals involved.

Ellis identified the three principal figures as: J. E. Caraway, then an agent for the Apex Distributing Co., Los Angeles, and now employed as a cook for a Seattle construction firm.

James E. Halstead, then a lieutenant in the Navy and now reportedly a bartender in Iceland. John Moeller, then a lieutenant.

Italian Premier Would Need Aid Of Radical Votes

ROME (AP)—Italy's far right and left political factions stepped up their campaigns to gain a greater voice in the government today as the nation's Cabinet crisis went into its third day.

With President Giovanni Gronchi continuing his consultations seeking a successor to Premier Mario Scelba, the two top contenders appeared to be ex-Premier Giuseppe Pella and Budget Minister Ezio Vanoni.

The demands made by the Communists, the fellow-traveling Socialists and the Monarchists took on new importance since it appeared that a part of the votes needed by any new premier to command a parliamentary majority would have to come from one of the three parties.

The Christian Democrats, the largest single faction in Parliament, have only 262 of the 590 Chamber of Deputies seats—34 short of a majority. Scelba, Pella and Vanoni all belong to this party.

Scelba stayed in office almost 16 months with the backing of a coalition including the Christian Democrats and three minor center parties. Most observers believe that both Pella and Vanoni, if given the assignment, would seek to form an all-Christian Democrat government.

Pella, who leads a right-wing faction that forced Scelba's resignation Wednesday, probably would look to the Monarchist right for unofficial support. Vanoni might seek his supporting votes from the left-wing Socialists led by Pietro Nenni.

Debt Limit Raise Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee today quickly approved an administration request to increase the national debt limit to 281 billion dollars for another year.

Secretary Dulles Makes Strong Talk Against The Reds

Says the Way to End Cold War Is to Stop the Use of Force And Encouraging Subversion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told Russia in blunt language today that the way to end the cold war is to stop using force against other countries and to stop supporting subversion.

In a stinging attack on communism, Dulles declared: "To bring the cold war to an end, seven points are not needed; this one is sufficient."

The secretary spoke at the U.N.'s 10th anniversary meeting, which Wednesday heard Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov propose a seven-point program to liquidate the cold war.

Dulles spoke with President Eisenhower's "full confidence and concurrence." The President himself said so on Monday when he addressed the opening session. He told the delegates the secretary would speak today "on appropriate elements in the foreign policy of this nation."

Dulles pulled no punches as he reviewed the role of communism in recent history. He agreed with Molotov that some problems had been settled recently, but he said they would have been settled years earlier except for the Communists.

"We do not forget," he said, "we dare not forget, that some of those who now hail the recent developments are precisely those who for years sought to stop them."

Dulles strongly defended the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and other regional organizations which Molotov blamed for much of the trouble today. These organizations were based on the spirit of the U.N. Charter, he said, and it was Western strength, backed by these organizations, which had led to the solution of major problems.

Then, in sarcastic language, he took up the problems which Molotov had listed in his speech as having been solved. The Korean

Seek Tax Hike To Pay For Security Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats were reported considering today a future 1 per cent hike in the social security tax to pay for the new benefits they want to give older women and disabled workers.

House Ways and Means committee members were armed with this estimate of the more unpleasant, "how to pay for it" side of the Democratic-sponsored plan as they went into a fourth straight day of closed sessions.

The Democratic majority has already tentatively approved proposals to lower from 65 to 62 the age at which women can receive social security benefits and to allow payments at any age to workers under the system who become totally disabled.

Committee sources said the group has heard from government specialists that the changes would eventually cost the social security program nearly $2,200,000,000 a year and require about a 1 per cent hike—one half per cent each on the worker and employer—in the social security tax rate.

Payments into the social security fund now come mainly from a 2 per cent tax paid by the worker on his income up to $4,200 a year plus an equal amount paid by the employer. Under present law this combined 4 per cent, still to be split half and half, is due to go up to 5 per cent in 1960 and another 1 per cent more every five years thereafter until reaching 8 per cent in 1975.

Thus an added 1 per cent from the Democratic-proposed changes would boost the percentages that much all along the line until it reached 9 per cent in 1975, 4½ per cent each for worker and employer.

The committee was reportedly told that the extra 1 per cent would certainly have to go into effect by Jan. 1, 1958, and probably by Jan. 1, 1957, if the social security fund isn't to go into the red.

Ike's Son Among Men Graduated by School

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP)—President Eisenhower's son was among the 610 armed forces officers from the United States 35 allied nations to graduate today from the Army's Command and General Staff College.

The name of Maj. John Eisenhower, however, was not among the top 10 officers of the class. His father stood first among the honor graduates in the 1926 class at the college.

SAFB Pilot Lands Plane While Ablaze

Cool Thinking Averts Disaster As Engine Explodes

Expert airmanship and cool thinking averted disaster Thursday at the Sedalia Air Force Base when the No. 3 engine of a B-47, flown by Capt. E. E. Boyd, exploded on takeoff about 3:15 p.m. Thursday.

The aircraft assigned to the 486th Bomb Squadron had just taken off and had gained an altitude of approximately 300 feet when the engine exploded. Capt. Boyd immediately shut off the power to engines No. 2 and 3, which are located near the cockpit on the left wing, and declared an emergency. He then flew the landing pattern, notifying the control tower of the trouble encountered, and completed his emergency landing and stop.

The engine was still burning when the plane came to a halt but the fire department waiting on the runway quickly extinguished the flames. Damage to the aircraft was confined to No. 3 engine alone.

Lt. Col. Slavel P. Sabin, 486th commander, stated that "expert handling of the aircraft prevented extensive damage to the aircraft and possible injury to the men on board."

Capt. Boyd lives with his family at 1500 Honeyusckle Road, Sedalia. Capt. James E. Greene, co-pilot of the aircraft, lives at 1623 Honeyusckle Road. Capt. William Ernest, the observer, resides in Warrensburg. A/C John Timberlake, an armament and electronics specialist, was also aboard the plane.

Car, Bus Collision Kills Bank Officials Near Washington, Mo.

WASHINGTON, Mo. (AP)—A car and a bus collided head-on three miles south of here last night, killing three bank officials and critically injuring a fourth.

Five other persons, including the bus driver, were treated for minor injuries at St. Francis Hospital and released.

The dead were Robert J. Simon, 44, of Brentwood, Mo., a assistant vice president of Boatman's National Bank in St. Louis; George Soltz, 61, Kirkwood, also an assistant vice president at Boatman's and driver of the car, and Alfred Schulte, 53, cashier of the Bank of Washington.

Robert A. Niemann, 40, of Glendale, cashier at Boatman's, was in critical condition at St. Francis Hospital.

Missouri highway patrolmen said the northbound bus, operated by the Washington-Union-St. Louis Bus Co., swerved on State Route 47 to avoid another car which had stopped to make a turn when the crash occurred.

INSIDE STORIES

This is the time of year when the iron man traveler packs his family into the car and sets off on a grim vacation trip. Distance is the goal, no matter the cost. How many men have you known like the one described on Page 4?

The city of Memphis, Tenn., is building its own power plant, a powerful maneuver in the battle against the Dixon-Yates power project that has caused so much controversy. Read about it on Page 10.

Bevan has been named by England's left-wingers to the "shadow cabinet"—the one that would take over should Eden's party lose an election. This is quite a comeback for the man who faced expulsion by his party. Turn to Page 2.

Bevan Named To Cabinet By Left-Wingers

LONDON (AP)—Left-wing Laborite Aneurin Bevan has been elected to the party's new shadow cabinet. His selection came 14 months after he quit the old group in protest against party chief Clement Attlee's stand on international affairs.

The fiery Welsh rebel was among 12 top Socialists elected last night to the body, which decides the party's stand on legislation before Parliament. It would take over as the regular Cabinet should the ruling Conservatives be turned out of office and the Laborites succeed in forming a government.

Along with Bevan, the party members in Parliament also named his chief lieutenant Harold Wilson, a former trade minister, took over Bevan's seat on the old shadow cabinet when his leader walked out in April 1954.

Although the election of both men gave their left-wing faction an additional seat, Attlee's moderates claimed the voting was a triumph for their views. Seven Bevan supporters had sought election.

As party chief, Attlee automatically heads the shadow cabinet. His deputy Herbert Morrison also won a place on the group without a contest.

Bevan has long been at odds with the party's moderates. He stormed out of the old shadow cabinet in 1954 after it turned down his demand that the party end its support of what he called British appeasement of U.S. foreign policy. He insisted the Labor party should advocate an independent British path, anti-American but not necessarily pro-Russian.

Parents Claim Child After Mixup Keeps Them Apart Longer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Little Larry Cull is back with his parents again, none the worse for a "misunderstanding" that kept him from them for an extra six days.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Douglas Cull, who left the year-old tot at a boarding house "for five days" and hadn't called for him 11 days later claimed the boy yesterday at Juvenile Court.

Cull, a hardware salesman, said they had no intention of forgetting Larry, who was placed in the boarding house of Mrs. Ellen Faford because Cull's mother was ill.

On June 12, Cull paid for five days' care for Larry at the boarding house and at the end of that time, he said, he sent Mrs. Faford money for another week's board and tried to call her, but couldn't find her number.

Judge Louis Jull called it a misunderstanding. No charges were filed against the parents.

Dr. Hobbs to Speak At Morning Worship

"Going In and Out" will be the sermon subject Dr. Elmer L. Hobbs will use next Sunday morning at the 8:15 a.m. worship service. Mrs. Charles Maggard will sing "On Life's Highway" by Brown. Church School will follow the worship service.

Work on the Church School rooms has begun and has gotten off to a good start. The men will work on Monday and Wednesday nights from 7 o'clock, (or earlier) to 9 o'clock.

The Workers' Conference will meet Thursday night, June 30, at 7:30 o'clock.

Find Stolen Auto

CHARLESTON (AP)—City police found a stolen car yesterday but they weren't proud. It had been in police custody for more than a month after being hauled in for a parking violation.

Woman Doesn't Know She Has Been Knifed

DENVER (AP)—A woman sat at a bar early today with the handle of a knife sticking from her back.

Patrolmen Paul Major and Burt Alexander said the woman, Martha Dell Mitchell, 39, claimed she didn't know she had been stabbed until officers told her.

At a hospital the knife with a four-inch blade was removed from between her shoulder blades. Her condition was reported fair.

Bathers Have Racket

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Police have arrested two bathing-suited burglars. They said the men gained entry to the best hotels in the resort city of Acapulco by appearing in bathing trunks and carrying towels. They would enter rooms by using master keys, pick up loot, wrap it in the towels and depart. They were accused of taking $16,000 worth of jewels.

Begin Relations Talks

BELGRADE (AP)—Yugoslavia and the Western Big Three today began the conference they arranged after the recent visit of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

Japanese Army Day

TOKYO (AP)—Japan has chosen Oct. 1—first anniversary of establishment of its self-defense force—as Defense Day. The event will be an annual occasion somewhat like the American Armed Forces Day.

Jaycees See Color Slides About Europe

The Sedalia Jaycees were taken on a tour of Europe Thursday night when Robert Van Horn showed them some of the colored photographs he took while serving with the Army recently. The meeting was held at the Pacific Cafe.

The Jaycees also heard a report from Joe Ream, and Davey Jones chairmen of the membership drive held June 14, that 21 new members had been acquired and that about a dozen more will be signed up shortly as a result of the drive.

The new members present were called to the front of the room, introduced as Baby Jaycees and presented with their bibs.

The new members are: Bill Arnold, Charles E. Erickson, Lloyd B. Comer, Dr. Chester Kirkpatrick, Dr. Kenneth Snyder, John Wilson, Paul Schroeder, Joseph B. Forsee, Dr. Donald C. Proctor, Russell Conn, John May, Seth W. Ward, Eugene Knothe, Ronald F. Baumer, Russell Maag, Reuben Twenter, Charles Hare, Kenneth Cordry, Eddie Lyles, Richard Hoffman and Gail Flores, Jr.

Herald Foster, chairman of the civic improvement committee, outlined his plan for the Jaycees' new project, distributing and maintaining donation match cartons throughout the city to gain funds for United Cerebral Palsy of Pettis County, Inc. Volunteers were organized for the project, which will begin Monday.

Van Horn explained before showing his slides that while with the Army he was able to take advantage of the tours offered servicemen in Europe. He traveled through Spain, France, Germany, Austria, Luxembourg, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, and England, taking photographs all the way.

Guests introduced last night were: Jerry Decker, of Don Warlock; Harlan Spatz, of Davey Jones; and Joe May and Gilbert Lampton, of Tom Delph.

The meeting was conducted by Jack Delph, president.

Molotov Changes Time Of Dinner for Truman Speech at UN Fete

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—V. M. Molotov passed out word today that he has changed the time of a diplomatic dinner tonight so his guests can hear former President Harry S. Truman and then dine with him.

A diplomatic tempest raged yesterday at the 10th anniversary celebration of the U.N. over reports that Molotov deliberately arranged the dinner at the Russians' leased mansion to boycott Truman's speech.

The Russians opposed the invitation to Truman when it was first mentioned several weeks ago but Truman was invited by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold regardless.

The Russians said Truman is a private citizen and not an official.

Man Who Jumped Not Able to Be Identified

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The body of a man who somersaulted from the 11th floor of a downtown office building last night was still unidentified today.

Grey-haired, about 55, the man had no identification in his clothing.

Hundreds of persons were on the street as the body plummeted into a parking lot.

The man had hesitated on a ledge for 20 minutes. Six women in a 10th floor beauty shop saw him. A man in a nearby building called police. Officers were on the way up in an elevator when the man jumped.

Picks Wrong Motorist To Use Bad Language

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Traffic patrolman Maurice Quinlan ordered a motorist to get moving yesterday because he was tying up traffic.

The motorist, who said Quinlan used cuss words, replied: "Take a good look."

Quinlan did. The motorist was Police Supt. James Slusser, driving his private auto.

Quinlan drew a three-day suspension. And when he reports back, he'll be walking a beat, Slusser declared. The superintendent said he wasn't violating any law anyway—just like any motorist he got caught in a jam.

Intercedes for Crew

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—Japanese port authorities here barred the entire crew of the American freighter Indian Mail for a time yesterday from coming ashore for "deliberate disregard of regulations."

They said the crewmen had to return landing passes issued last January, April and May, when the vessel visited Yokohama.

All but six were finally allowed ashore after the American consul interceded.

Tells Kiwanis Of Recent SS Law Changes

An informative talk on new social security regulations, changes in the revenue act and their relationship to insurance was given by James T. Denny, Metropolitan Life Insurance consultant, before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The program was in charge of Victor Scott, chairman. Invocation was by the Rev. Edward R. Sims.

Jack Shoemaker, vice-president, presided and introduced two new members: Otis Crites, manager of Household Finance Corp., and William Jens, manager of Public Loan Corp.

In honor of a new daughter in his family Ralph Koch presented Kiwanians with cigars.

Russell Maag, with Miss Lillian Fox accompanist, led the singing. Members were informed that the Sedalia club would be represented at the International Convention in Cleveland next week by President Jack Crawford and Past President L. A. Pharris, chairman of the Mo-Ark district "On to Cleveland" committee, which is one out of six districts leading with 250 prospective convention delegates. The two will leave Saturday for Cleveland.

Guests at Thursday's meeting were: Fred Gimble, Des Moines, Ia., with his brother-in-law, Guy Bailey; and Robert Morgan with his father, Arthur Morgan.

Next week the club will have as speaker the state director of civilian defense.

Radiation Weakens Novel Hero's Life

NISHINOMIYA, Japan (AP)—The Japan News said today Father Wilhelm Kleinsorge, whose atom bomb experience was featured in John Hershey's book "Hiroshima," is in critical condition at a hospital here.

The newspaper said the 48-year-old German priest's white cell count is down to half of normal. Reduced white cell count may be a symptom of radiation disease.

Kleinsorge, a naturalized Japanese, was on the third floor of a Hiroshima church when the bomb exploded nearly 10 years ago. His immediate physical injuries were minor.

Miss K. Smith Becomes Bride Of N. Hackman

Miss Kay Carolyn Swift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd I. Swift, New Franklin, and Norman Henry Hackman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hackman, Franklin, exchanged wedding vows Sunday afternoon, May 22 at three o'clock. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. N. C. Schultz at the Evangelical and Reformed Church in New Franklin.

Walter Luehrman, Jr., Higginsville, cousin of the bridegroom, sang, "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied by the organist, Miss Carol Bretthorst, New Franklin, who played appropriate selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white taffeta gown with waist and skirt panels of white Chantilly lace. The sleeves tapered to points over the hands and the high neckline featured a Queen Anne collar of lace. The floor length veil of silk tulle, hand embroidered by the bride's mother, fell from a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and a Stephanotis.

Mrs. Aubrey W. Owen, Jr., Sedalia, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of yellow taffeta with a nylon net overskirt and a lace jacket. She wore a poke bonnet of turquoise net and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations.

Mrs. Daniel Crowley, Franklin, was bridesmaid. She wore a floor length gown of yellow taffeta, styled identically to that of the matron of honor and carried a bouquet of orchid carnations.

Candlelighters were Miss Frieda Bradshaw and Miss Darlene Vahrenberg of New Franklin. Miss Bradshaw wore a floor length gown of orchid taffeta with a nylon net overskirt and a lace jacket and was braided bands of rainbow ribbon in the back of her hair. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Miss Vahrenberg's gown of lime green was styled identically to Miss Bradshaw's.

Linda Bradshaw, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a floor length gown of pink taffeta and a pink bonnet. Leon Hackman of Franklin, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Melvin Wilmsmeyer, New Franklin, cousin of the bridegroom, was groomsmen. Joe Hull and Curtis Sprick, both of Franklin, were ushers.

Mrs. Swift chose a jacket dress of aqua rayon linen for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy shadow sheer dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride. The buffet held an arrangement of a miniature doll wearing a gown identical to that of the bride, tapers and wedding rings. The home was decorated with wedding bells and garden flowers. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth and held an arrangement of pink roses and white tapers. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Miss Joan Spahr, Kansas City, was in charge of the guest book. Others assisting were Mrs. Leonard Hackman, Miss Loretta Knapheide, Miss Barbara Turner and Miss JoAnn Schmidt, all of New Franklin.

For their wedding trip to the northern states, the bride chose a pin check navy dress with a hip length jacket and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

They are residing in New Franklin.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Schupp of Pleasant Green, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Winters, Mrs. George R. Winters, George I. Winters, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Elliott and son Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey W. Owen, Sr., and Robbie, Mrs. Aubrey W. Owen, Jr., Mrs. Nellie Spahr and Miss Clarice Mettler, of Sedalia.

Meat For The Teen-Agers....

Supplying children with proper foods, teaching them to eat it and grow big and strong has been and probably will be a daily domestic curriculum for families the world over.

Not always does this meet with the degree intended. Teen-age girls have been described as the poorest-fed members of the American family because of grossly inadequate diets. Male teen-agers do not wholly escape the deficiency either. Educators and parents are giving intensive attention to this, among other, teen-age problems.

Nutritionists indicate that children from 13 to 19 years of age need from 30 to 50 per cent more of certain vital food nutrients than their fathers and mothers. And of course this prompts the meat industry to offer a subtle suggestion that perhaps one of the major diet lacks seems to be meat which, due to its high whole protein content, is one of the foods which do the most to promote and maintain mental and physical health and vigor.

In acquiring those nutrients it has been estimated our 16,000,000 teen-agers could profitably increase their annual meat consumption by the huge figure of 992,000,000 pounds—which works out to be about 62 pounds apiece. This could also have a profitable reaction for Central Missouri's cattle raisers as well as processors.

The drive-ins ought to seize upon this for more intensive promotion of their hamburgers which the teen-agers really go for. Who knows but that further research may reveal meat deficiency in the diet of teen-agers is a causative factor in juvenile delinquency!

Dictator Peron May Yet Reap Whirlwind

President Juan Peron of Argentina evidently was saved from political ruin this time by the loyalty of his army—a loyalty he had taken drastic measures to insure. In view of experts, he may not fare so well in a future revolt.

It is almost axiomatic to say that a dictator who crushes a rebellion emerges stronger than ever. Some of the best judges of Argentine affairs say that probably this will be the result of Peron's successful routing of the revolutionaries who touched off the biggest uprising of his regime.

But these same judges believe that Peron has been weakened in the long run, not alone by the abortive result but by his bitter battle with the Catholic church. They are convinced there will be another assault upon his government one day and that it will succeed.

Peron's power today rests partly on the army, partly on a strong police force, and partly on government dominated labor unions managed by his stooges. Of these, the army is, of course, the most crucial element.

It was unlikely any revolt would succeed which did not enlist the army. This newest insurgency did not. As nearly as can be figured, navy and air force men led the assault. The navy was the principal factor, but the use of jet planes in one of the two bombing attacks on the government palace indicated the cooperation of at least some air force personnel.

At first glance the loyalty of the army might seem utterly discouraging to any future prospects of removing Peron. But examination discloses that this loyalty may be a fragile thing.

To insure it, Peron has eliminated many officers who might conceivably threaten his position. He has scattered army units about the country, and kept them separated from their munitions and motor fuel.

But these are not insurmountable obstacles to revolt if a true underground movement should develop within this army. The elements of successful rebellion exist within this force and the trained activists of his labor stooges.

Peron's campaign against the Catholic church, to which the great majority of Argentinians belong, may contain the seeds of his ultimate downfall. In taking on the powerful adversary, he may have bit off more than he can chew.

If time shows that he has thus overreached himself, that the people do not support this bold bid for absolute power, then the army may take its cue and the dictator may at long last be crushed.

Men who know Argentina well believe this will happen. Free men elsewhere in the world, anxious for the strengthening of liberty in every corner of the globe, hope it will.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round—

GOP Fidgets As Hobby Holds Resignation

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Now that the GOP National Committee has greased the skids for Secretary of Health Oveta Culp Hobby and even picked her successor, it can't get the obstinate lady to resign.

Her patient replacement, Marion Folsom, is waiting like a gentleman for her to make the first move. But she won't budge.

Though she originally threatened to resign over the Salk mix-up, she has exercised her feminine prerogative to change her mind and now seems determined to see the Salk battle through to the end.

Mrs. Hobby first spoke to the White House about resigning before the polio problem hit the headlines. She gave her husband's ill health as her excuse. Then she suddenly found herself in the middle of the Salk whirl.

After a presidential scolding for her handling of the problem, she burned to a crisp and threatened to go back to Texas. Her advisers warned, however, that it would look bad for her to resign under fire. So she stuck to her desk. But every time she opened her mouth, the politicians at GOP headquarters winced.

"She blandly belittled the Salk problem when the papers were reporting children dying from bad vaccine," complained one top Republican. "Now she associates those who are against socialized medicine with the whole Salk mess. Before you know it, she'll have people believing maybe socialized medicine is a good thing."

Meanwhile, she is brushing off the polite suggestions from Republican headquarters that she ought to resign right away for her husband's sake.

Cheese Scandal
It hasn't been advertised as part of the GOP farm program, but Secretary of Agriculture Benson has been paying cheese subsidies not to the dairy farmers but to the cheese manufacturers.

This novel "farm support" program has enriched a few big producers, while the farmers have collected next to nothing.

Yet the whole idea of price supports is to help the farmers.

The great cheese scandal was uncovered by House investigators, who have been mousing around in the government's cheese. As an example of what has been going on, they reported in a confidential memo to the House Government Operations Committee:

During March, 1954, the Commodity Credit Corporation purchased approximately 180 million pounds of cheese at 37 cents per pound. In April about 90 million pounds of this cheese was resold to the original manufacturers at 34 1/4 cents a pound. Thus the loss to the government on the purchase resale transaction was apparently $2.5 million."

In other words, the cheese producers bought their own cheese back from the government and made nearly three cents per pound profit on the deal within a month. What's even more shocking, the cheese never so much as left the producers' warehouse. The whole transaction was carried out on paper, and the manufacturers collected their profit without moving a pound of cheese.

Like most other farm policies, the cheese program was adopted with a minimum of advice from farmers but after careful consultation with the cheese industry. In other words, this plan to enrich cheese manufacturers came largely from the manufacturers. One of those consulted, for example, was Carl Berst, whose big Wisconsin cheese company promptly sold 5,275,116 pounds of cheese to the government, then bought it back for more than $150,000 profit.

Ripe Profits
Borden and Kraft executives were also consulted in advance about the cheese subsidy program. Afterward, investigators report, these two cheese giants together made over a million dollars on one transaction.

For example, Kraft Foods sold 29,164,860 pounds of cheese to the government in March, 1954, then immediately contracted to buy it all back. Lake-shire Martin Co. of Plymouth, Wis., a Borden subsidiary, pulled the same deal for 11,189,248 pounds of cheese. Other Kraft and Borden subsidiaries also turned a neat profit at the taxpayers' expense.

Still other companies that collected huge farm benefits include: W. S. Pope and Sons, Philadelphia; Pauly Cheese Co., Green Bay, Wis.; L. D. Schreiber and Co., Carthage, Mo.; Land O' Lakes Creameries, Plymouth, Wis.; Central Cheese Co., Marshfield, Wis.; Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., Green Bay, Wis.; Superior Cheese Co., Green Bay, Wis.; and Tillamook County Creamery Association, Tillamook, Ore.

For one month alone, 108 companies sold, and repurchased 86,639,277 pounds of cheese. Each pound cost the taxpayers three cents and, incidentally, raised the price of cheese so the same taxpayers will have to pay more for their cheese at the corner grocery.

Hitting A High Mark

One of the biggest propaganda successes scored by America in many a year has been registered by the brilliant Symphony of the Air in its triumphal tour of Japan and other Asiatic lands.

Especially in its three-week circuit of the Japanese islands, this orchestra built priceless good will and understanding for America. Members of the orchestra were individually identified and lionized by the Japanese, in the manner of star ballplayers.

We at home know that America's cultural life is far richer than millions abroad seem to realize. We are particularly rich in music, and it is a fine thing that some of our great orchestras are making foreign tours this year. It is one sure way to show our friends abroad that our cultural effort is not confined to singing in those shiny bathtubs for which we are famous.

Thought for Today

That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukeable until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ.—I. Timothy 6:14.

The first law that ever God gave to man was a law of pure obedience; it was a commandment, naked and simple, wherein man had nothing to inquire after, or to dispute, forasmuch as to obey is the proper office of a rational soul, acknowledging a heavenly superior and benefactor.—Montaigne.

The World Today—Mac's Loss Is Ike's Comfort

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower can take enormous comfort from the clobbering Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) took this week, not because it was McCarthy, but from the significance of the clobbering.

The Senate smashed 77-4 a proposal by McCarthy which would have interfered with, if it didn't wreck, Eisenhower's dealings with the Russians in the Big Four meeting in July.

The vote was, in effect, an expression of confidence by an overwhelming number of senators of both parties in letting Eisenhower use his own judgment at the meeting in Geneva.

Only four Republicans, including McCarthy, voted for the proposal. All the Democrats and other Republicans on the floor at the time joined forces in refusing to tell Eisenhower what he should do or handcuff him before he started. This was the kind of bipartisan support presidents dream about but which few get on the eve of the kind of negotiations Eisenhower is facing.

McCarthy's defeat was engineered by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader of the Senate. Standing right beside him was Sen. Knowland of California, the Republicans' Senate leader.

Eisenhower has received more cooperation from the Democrats on foreign policy since they took over in January than he got from his own Republicans in the two previous years when they ran the Senate.

For in those two years the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign policy was under constant attack by McCarthy. And even Knowland repeatedly and publicly differed with the President. Knowland hasn't been doing that lately.

The cooperation given Eisenhower by the Democrats in the foreign field is particularly conspicuous when compared with the constant criticism heaped on his Democratic predecessor Harry Truman by the Republicans.

McCarthy proposed that the Senate tell Eisenhower to demand of Russia, before the Big Four meeting, an agreement to discuss the question of Communist control in countries in Asia and Europe.

If the Senate went along with McCarthy—and if Eisenhower let the Senate dictate to him how to handle foreign affairs and made the demand on the Russians—the latter probably would have refused any meeting. If, by the far-fetched chance they agreed, they in turn could make demands on Eisenhower.

Johnson said McCarthy was trying to put Eisenhower in a strait-jacket. McCarthy suddenly introduced his suggestion Monday and wanted fast action. Johnson said he'd get it. He sent the proposal to the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee at once.

On Tuesday that group, made up of Democrats and Republicans, condemned it 14-0. Then Johnson brought it out on the floor Wednesday. The vote that followed was a slaughter for McCarthy and a hearty pat on the back for Eisenhower.

Hal Boyle's Column—

Mr. Iron Man Takes The Wheel During Vacations

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN (For HAL BOYLE)

CHICAGO, June 24 (AP)—This is the time of year the amateur iron-man type driver loads his family into the car and grimly wooshes off toward some far distant vacation spot.

Will he settle for 400, 500 or even 600 miles a day?

Not this character. He's a time-tested, 700-plus miles-a-day demon who voraciously gobbles up those tedious distances.

He carts along fruit, sandwiches and a jug full of coffee for the family. The normal road break for lunch is not for the likes of him. He's going places on a tight driving schedule that runs from sun-up to sun-down.

Will he get there in one piece?

Mr. Iron-man simply oozes self-confidence on this point. After all, he's a top-notch driver, he hasn't consumed any intoxicating liquor and hard driving doesn't make him feel sleepy or tired.

But safety experts and scientists who have studied the insidious effects of fatigue take a dimmer view of his chances.

If he doesn't doze off momentarily or run headlong into an emergency that calls for a hair-trigger decision and response, the make out all right.

But whether he knows it or not, the long grind of steady driving will slow down his reaction machinery and drop his vision and hearing ability below par.

Knowledge of these slow-down effects is based on actual field and laboratory tests of the primary functions most closely related to hours of driving.

One such study was made by the U. S. Public Health Service. Scientists tested truck drivers before and after a long stint at the wheel and after sleeping and resting.

Drivers were given intricate manual tasks and then timed with a stop-watch. They also were tested for simple reaction time, reaction - coordination time, and manual steadiness.

In one of these tests, the drivers grasped an object shaped like a pencil and, as rapidly as possible, alternately tapped two small brass plates separated by a block of wood. In another, they had to jab a pointed object through a series of different sized small holes, without touching the sides.

In each of the tests, the men who had not driven since sleep made the best showing. Only 9 per cent of this group failed to measure up to a predetermined level of driving efficiency. Of the group which had driven seven hours or less, 27 per cent failed to reach the efficiency level. But 42 per cent failed in the group which had driven 12 or more hours.

Studies conducted for the U. S. Navy by Dr. Arthur H. Steinhaus, professor of physiology and dean of George Williams College, Chicago, show that fatigue considerably reduces the ability to see, especially in dim light.

Getting back to Mr. Iron-Man,

Big Question Is Whether Adlai Should Be Nominated

By Joseph A. Dear

Democrat-Capital

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The big question about Adlai Stevenson that Democrats must answer is whether he should have the presidential nomination next year.

Much of the discussion concerning Stevenson has been confined to the question of whether he can land the nomination without fighting for it. But that is primarily his own personal problem. The problem facing the Democratic party is whether he ought to get the nomination in any case, and that has received relatively little attention.

There are arguments against nominating Stevenson a second time. His opposition is building its case. And a brief summary of that case, unaccompanied by any attempt to evaluate charges, is presented here.

The main charge against Stevenson is simple and deadly: he's no fighter. In 1952, according to critics, he was a diffident candidate both before and after his nomination.

Captivating phrases notwithstanding, his campaign was an exercise in futility because in his own mind he didn't believe in his own victory. This was painfully apparent on his election eve television appearance. He practically radiated resigned despair. That one show probably lost a million votes because it's difficult to keep faith in a man who thinks he's licked.

The second charge against Stevenson is especially intriguing in view of the attacks made on him by Republicans and Dixiecrats. The burden of their attack was that he was a left-wing liberal. Actually, according to his Democratic critics, Stevenson is no liberal at all.

For example, it's alleged that the Taft-Hartley issue leaves Stevenson cold. Labor would find other Democrats — Gov. Williams of Michigan, say—more sympathetic.

Nor is Stevenson much moved by the farm issue. He realizes there is a farm problem. But those who have discussed it with him doubt he reacted to the challenge.

And he has acted as chief counsel for Radio Corporation of America in the big anti-trust suit. Stevenson is a lawyer, of course, and must make ends meet. But many Democrats say it would have been more fitting for the titular head of their party to collect checks from other clients and for different type representation.

Northern liberals are distressed by Stevenson's fairly obvious efforts of late to placate Southern extremists. Governor Shivers of Texas deserves political execution for his 1952 apostasy, in the opinion of many Democrats. Yet Paul Butler, the chairman of the Democratic National Committee and a Stevenson henchman, has all but begged Shivers to return. And Stevenson has rebuked another follower, Stephen Mitchell, for denouncing Shivers.

Stevenson is not even a humorist anymore, according to his critics. His recent speeches are grim and dull. No wisecracks. Even his physical appearance has changed for the worse. Perhaps low calorie luncheons could correct this seemingly minor deficiency.

But even it could be important. If President Eisenhower is nominated again, the Democrats hope to make much of his age. If he finished his second term Ike would be the oldest President ever. But in spite of age and bursitis, the General cuts a fine figure. Better than Stevenson. And that might eliminate the age issue.

Democrat Pick-Ups

Odds and Ends By News Staff

While the family slept a man got into the house, helped himself to food in the kitchen and wandered through the house not awakening any of the four sleeping members of the family. He even stepped over the young boy who was sleeping in the doorway instead of his bed on the hot night, went through the pockets of the man of the house trousers.

Of course when the family woke up the next morning they were all excited and mom and the kids a little scared.

"How" questioned the mother of her husband, "Could he see to get around in the dark?"

"They use tiny flashlights," her husband told her. "And flash them on the floor in front of them so they can see where they are going."

Not too long afterwards the mother was awakened in the night by some noise and she froze right there in the bed. Somebody was in the house again. She listened. Then in the dark she saw a tiny flash of light — then another — and another. She was too frightened to yell, but later she made a discovery. The prowler this time was just a little lightning bug that had somehow gotten into the house and was just flashing his little light.

— H. L.

SHE WAS SURPRISED when she suddenly sneezed and out fell the teeth that she has not yet become used to. They hit the concrete of the porch and bounced under the swing.

Under the swing she went after them and seeing that they were not broken she picked them up quickly and shoved them back in her mouth. It was several minutes before she realized that she had stuck them back in her mouth without even washing them off after they had slid around on the porch where everybody had been walking.

— H. L.

The National Safety Council says his first mistake was in not setting a daily goal of 400 miles, with an absolute limit of 500 miles.

Dr. Steinhaus believes another serious mistake is to drive through the lunch hour. The simple exercise of leaving and reentering the car causes the heart to pump a much greater volume of fatiguerating blood to the brain.

All investigators agree abstinence from alcohol is a must on such trips. Numerous independent studies all show the reaction-slowing effects from as little as two ounces of whisky.

The safety council offers these fatigue-fighting tips:

1. Set a modest goal for a day's drive, starting and stopping early.
 2. Stop whenever you feel drowsy or muscle strain. Drink water, walk around, breathe deeply.
 3. Break the monotony of uninteresting stretches by singing, playing word games, license plate games or listening to the car radio.
 4. Keep your car well ventilated.
- Commenting on accidents caused by fatigue, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said:
- "The miracle of wonder drugs has overshadowed the oldest and one of the best remedies for mankind's ills—rest. So why not make your vacation a time of rest and relaxation, instead of an annual competition to see who can drive the farthest and fastest?"

Guest Editorial—

YAZOO CITY (Miss.) HERALD: NEVER MIND THE RAILROAD TRACKS. North, south, east or west, the railroad tracks usually divide the cities and towns. As a result we have "the wrong side of the tracks" and "the right side of the tracks."

It is amazing that such a large number of our executives and leaders in the big cities come from the small towns. And that so many come from the wrong side of the tracks.

One of them is Dale Carnegie. His father died and he had to quit school as a young boy to earn a living for the family. Although he himself never had a formal education, more than any other man he has helped other men who were deprived of schooling by making available to them a valuable sort of training course.

Even Presidents of the United States came from the other side of the tracks, but that didn't hinder them from reaching the highest place in the land. The railroad tracks need not be a handicap. They are a challenge. Neither they, nor the lack of formal schooling, nor any other obstacle can keep you from reaching your goal, if you have the determination, the grit, the courage to forge ahead to win.

Esther Begins Drive to Get US in Swim

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Esther Williams launched a campaign this week to get America into the swim.

"People ought to swim more," she argues. "Not only so they'll be safe in the water, but because it's healthful and fun, too. A swimming pool is the best thing in the world for a family. It brings the family together and brightens everyone's life."

Esther is certainly a walking testimonial for what a life in the water can do. Besides helping her achieve one of the world's most admired figures, it has brought her fame and fortune.

like, but chew while you drive. Naturally we recommend refreshing, delicious Wrigley's Spearmint Gum—for lively, full-bodied flavor and real, smooth chewing enjoyment!

AJ106

The first gun in her campaign is her announcement that she will operate a swimming school at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, opening Aug. 11.

Later she expects to establish them at Hilton hotels throughout the world. She plans to license schools throughout the United States, operating as dance studios do today.

Esther also aims to encourage Americans to swim in their own back yards. She and her husband, Ben Gage, are planning to merchandize a low-cost pool, constructed of cement blocks with a heavy plastic liner.

The Gage-Williams aquatic plans also include a projected water show.

European audiences, she said, are used to seeing shows "in the round."

"So that is how we'll do our show," she said. It will have three rings—a round, 100-foot diameter swimming pool made of fibre glass; another pool of transparent plastic for diving and underwater ballet; a stage for "dry" acts.

She said the show will open in London in 1956.

Movie Magnate Put On Polluted Air Work

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The movies are now getting into the smog act.

The air pollution foundation announced yesterday that a motion picture executive has been appointed to the foundation's board of trustees. He is Y. Frank Freeman, production head at Paramount Studios.

The foundation's announcement explained:

"Smog frequently has hampered outdoor shooting on location, and at times has even interfered with shooting of movies on enclosed sets, where atmospheric pollution has been unavoidably drawn in through air intakes."

In most so-called underdeveloped countries about 40 per cent of the population is under 15 years old.

First Christian Church Arranges Planning Retreat

Next Sunday the people of the First Christian Church will be holding their sixth annual planning retreat at Mayor Bagby's cabin west of Sedalia. About a hundred and twenty-five of the church's leaders will leave Sedalia following church on Sunday and will gather at the cabin for a covered-dish dinner at 11:45 a.m. Following dinner the entire afternoon will be spent in separate committee meetings as the leaders plan the program of the church for the next year.

The First Christian is congregational in policy and has a functional organization with its work divided into seven basic departments: property, evangelism, membership development, world work, education, stewardship, and worship. During the past two weeks all these departments and their chairman have been having a series of meetings and conferences preparing for Sunday's retreat. When these groups have completed their work next Sunday afternoon the entire program of the church for the next year will have been outlined and ready for printing. This program will be the 1955-56 "blueprint" for the church.

A. H. Warren, manager of Main Street Drug Store, is the chairman of the church's Official Board. The departmental chairmen are: A. H. Wilks, chairman of property; Judge Frank Armstrong, chairman of evangelism; Mrs. Howard Turner, Sr., chairman of membership development; Mrs. J. W. Wofford, chairman of world work; Mrs. John Kenney, chairman of religious education; Virgil Herick, chairman of the department of stewardship; and Rolla Lopp, chairman of the department of worship.

Youth Caravan Will Visit Fifth St. Methodist Church

The Youth Caravan that will serve at the Fifth Street Methodist Church next week, will be introduced to the congregation at the worship service Sunday morning at 8:30 a.m. Miss Norma Lee Smith, who will serve as Caravan leader, will explain the objectives of the Caravan in their work among the young people and youth counselors of the church. The minister, the Rev. Lee F. Soxman, will preach on the subject, "At Home In a Land of Friendship" and the choir will sing "Angels of Jesus" by Benson.

The visiting team will meet with the pre-high school young people and leaders at 2:30 p.m. Sunday and with the high school and older young people and leaders for a covered-dish supper and program beginning at 6:30 p.m. During the week, Monday through Friday, they will meet with the younger group each morning at 9:30 and with the older group each evening beginning at 6:30 with a served dinner.

Besides Miss Norma Smith, the counselor, the team consists of Miss Joyce Richards of Brookings, S. D., Miss Sarah Booth of Andalusia, Ala., Miss Pat Dillon, Dallas, Tex., and Miss Barbara Dean Smith, Minden, La. All are juniors or seniors in colleges of their respective states, are active leaders in their local churches, and come highly recommended for their ability to do an effective piece of work.

The team, which consists of five young women, comes here direct from the Caravan Training Center at Winfield, Kan., from which Caravans will be sent into the various states of the Southwest. The group assigned to this area will assist in developing a more effective youth program in seven local churches of this area of the state. To each church will be given six days of intensive training in worship and recreation, and in considering ways and means of enlarging the youth activities in the church.

Chiefs Defeat Marshall Here Thursday For Third Win

First Win Under Russ Gilmore Shows Team Improvements

Playing their first game under the direction of their new Manager, Russell Gilmore, the local Ban Johnson Chiefs took a 14-4 victory over the Marshall Bombers and at the same time played their best game of the season.

Many of the fans at Liberty Park Thursday night agreed that the Chiefs, who have improved their fielding considerably, now look like the team they usually are.

The win brought the Chiefs out of the second from the cellar standing and tied them with Marshall for sixth place, both with records of three wins against six losses.

In the game Thursday night, Gilmore, in an attempt to give all his pitchers a chance to get ready for a really big drive in the second half of league play, decided to use three pitchers three innings each.

He was forced to use four, however, when Don Delph sprained his ankle in the seventh frame after hurling one scoreless inning.

Burton started for the Chiefs and allowed three runs off five hits. Only two of the runs were earned.

Kubli took over for the Chiefs in the fourth and pitched three perfect innings striking out four of the nine men to face him. He was credited with the win by the official scorer.

Delph was touched for one hit in his inning and then Arnold finished up with two hitless innings although one unearned run was scored off him in the ninth.

The Chiefs were hot at the plate as well as improved in the field and on the pitching staff as they gave the Marshall hurlers a rough way to go.

Duren pitched the first six for Marshall and B. Teeter finished up the seventh and the eighth.

Case went two for three for the Chiefs and stole three bases while scoring four runs.

Higgins had three for five including a double and scored two runs while driving in two more.

Barbour batted in five runs, getting two hits in five trips to the plate.

Mines had a long triple in the batting part of his game, but really started behind the plate for men in attempted steals.

Neal lay down a perfect bunt for a base hit in the second and then in the third batted a homer high over the wall in left center for the only four bagger of the game.

The game was of the variety usually found in Ban Johnson ball from the local club and fans agreed they showed their old form in this match as they continue their "climb to the top" which has become the Chief's slogan.

Sunday night the Chiefs will face the Brookfield Bombers at Liberty Park at 8 p.m. For those who saw the victory over Marshall this tilt against the third place team they are sure will be one of the finest of the first half.

All local fans are urged to come to the park and support the Chiefs in their "climb to the top."

Little LEAGUERS

In the first game of Little League play Thursday night the Ice and Cold Storage club defeated the Adcos 6-4 with Wagner taking the winning pitching honors for the Cold Storagers.

The losing pitcher was Griggs. The Storagers led off in the first frame with a two-run lead which they increased to four runs in the second as they stopped the Adcos with no scores for the first three frames. The Cold Storage boys were held scoreless themselves in the third and fourth and allowed the Adcos to cross three in their half of the fourth.

The fifth inning brought two more Cold Storage runs and brought the score to 6-4 as the Adcos tallied one in the last of the frame and neither team scored the last inning.

The second game brought the Optimists to a 4-3 decision over the Lions as they completed a tight 4-3 game won by Fricke, the Optimist hurler. The loser was Keltner.

The Lions took the lead in the first inning by one run after holding the Optimists scoreless and in the second both teams crossed one to allow the Lions to retain a one-run lead.

The third frame, however, brought an Optimist rally of three runs and as they allowed the Lions only one more tally, which came in the last of the third frame, the game stood after six innings 4-3.

Ice & Cold Storage .220 020-6
Adco .000 310-4
Optimists .013 000-4
Lions .111 000-3

Action in the Little League will come tonight with the minors as the Adcos will take the field against the Ice and Cold Storage club and the Lions will face the Kiwanis in the final tilt of the evening.

Saturday morning the Optimists will take on the Rotary club and in the second morning game it will be Elks vs. Jaycees.

Mite league games between the Cards and the Dodgers and the Yanks and the Athletics will also be played Saturday morning at the Smith-Cotton practice field.

Babe Ruthers Play Two Tilts Tonight

The first game of the Babe Ruth League tonight will be Browns Supply meeting Taystee Bread at 6:30 p.m.

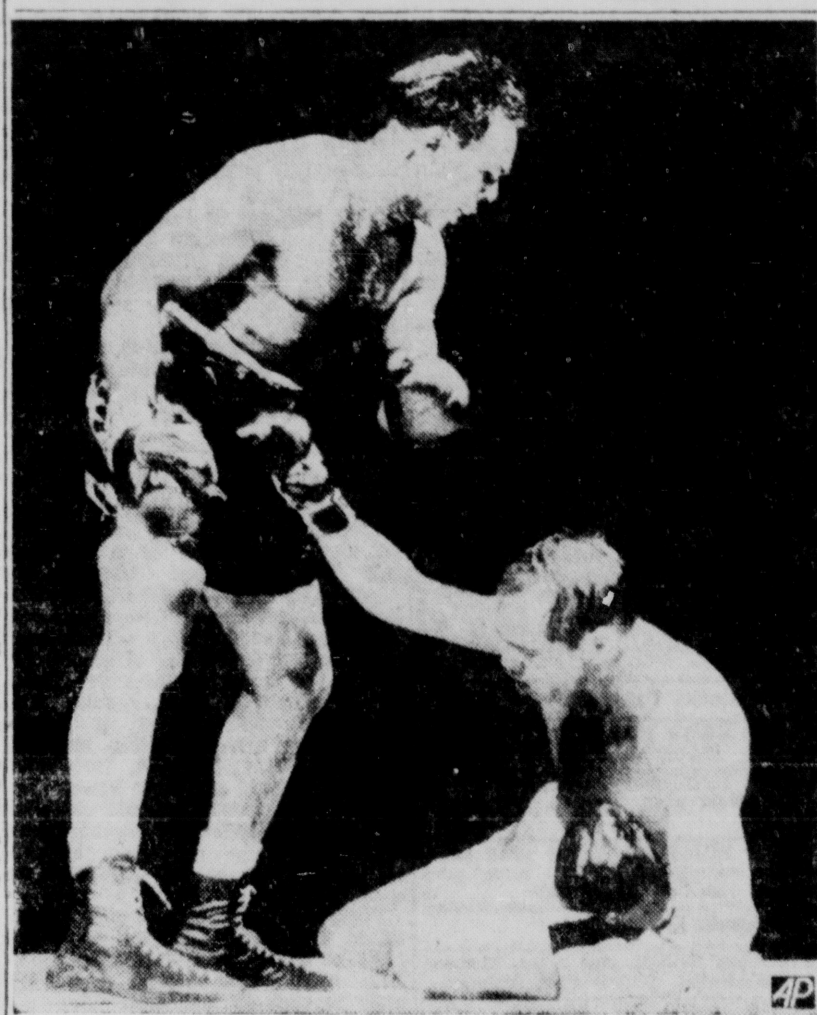

The second game will be Western Auto meeting Andersons at 8:15 p.m.

The first game promises to be a thriller as The Brown Supply Team and the Taystee Bread team are tied for first place, both having won five games and lost one.

The Western Auto Team and State College is also competing. Santee holds the record of 4:13 at Folsom Field here, a mile above sea level. "It will take about a 4:06 or a 4:07 to win this mile and that's what I'm here to do," Santee added. "I certainly won't try for any 4 minute mark this week. I'll just run to win."

SPORTS

BOBO BLASTED—GOING DOWN—Lightweight champion Archie Moore stands over falling middleweight title holder Carl (Bobo) Olson after belting the challenger for his title into unconsciousness in 1:19 of the third round of bout at New York's Polo Grounds. A series of murderous left hooks and a flashing right ended Olson's hopes of gaining two boxing crowns. (AP Wirephoto).

Sports Roundup—Olson-Moore Bout Shows Unnatural Pairing Plan

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It will be a long, long time, we fearlessly predict, before the promoters will work up nerve enough to serve the customers another blue plate special between the champions of the 160 and 175-pound divisions.

It has long since been proved to be an unnatural pairing. The latest farce, in which large and deadly punching Archie Moore dispatched "little" Bobo Olson with almost the first good lick he landed, should serve as a lasting warning to the middleweights to stay in their class.

If ever again there is a middleweight champion who feels he has outgrown his opposition and who insists upon stepping up a notch, he should at least be forced to abandon his title and declare himself a full-fledged light heavyweight before the papers are signed. This would automatically deprive such a match of its false glitter and mute the ballyhoo. Olson would not have agreed to such terms.

In retrospect—and one can be brilliantly retrospective after seeing a fighter splattered the way Bobo was—there was less reason for this mixed fight than there was for the last previous one between Joey Maxim and Sugar Ray Robinson on another sizzling June night in 1952.

The Sugar Boy had been a genuine fistic marvel for years as he fought his way triumphantly through three weight divisions. One even heard silly talk that he might give Joe Louis trouble. Ray was, verily, a dreamboat, while Maxim merely was the best of a sad crop of 175-pounders. Joey himself candidly conceded that he couldn't punch hard enough to raise a welt.

Even so, it was Robinson, not Maxim, who finally wilted in the 100-degree heat and practically passed out babbling on his stool with two more rounds to go. Sugar hadn't been hit too much and he was far ahead on points, but the very physical exertion of tugging and hauling with the bigger man proved too much for him.

As for Olson, he almost seemed to realize from the moment he stepped out to face Moore that he was a boy sent on a man's errand. He looked pale and extremely uneasy and there was no light of battle in his eyes. He made no pretense of moving in and slugging away with both hands, the style of fighting which made him the scourge of the middleweights.

Williams Is Shot in Arm For Red Sox

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's torrid Red Sox, on the threshold of the American League first division with 14 wins in 16 games, are "having a little fun" the way Manager Mike Higgins tells it.

Detroit, which arrived Tuesday three games ahead of Boston in fourth place left here with only a .001 percentage edge.

Ted Williams deserves much credit for the improvement. Since returning to the lineup May 28 he's hit .387 with nine home runs, two triples, eight doubles, 24 runs batted in, scored 20 runs and drawn 20 walks.

In addition, he's given valuable batting tips to the younger members of the club.

In the Detroit series Williams: 1. Hit a three-run homer that beat the Tigers 5-4 in the first game.

2. Clubbed three doubles in the second game for two RBIs and scored twice in a 12-7 win.

3. Got a single and three key walks as Boston blanked the Tigers 7-0 on Frank Sullivan's two-hitter.

Though pained severely recently with a sore back, Williams is hustling like never before. He's making fine catches in left field and even stolen a base.

His enthusiasm is catching. Suddenly, shortstop Billy Klaus, hitting .299, flowered batting ahead of Ted while righthanders Jackie Jensen and rookie Norm Zaichin cut loose behind him.

Zaichin broke loose May 27—the night before Williams returned—for three home runs and a double against Washington. Since then he's tagged nine of his 13 homers. Jensen has 14 home runs and 51 RBIs.

Yesterday, while Williams was being given three walks, Jensen hit a grand slam homer, Zaichin a four-bagger with a mate aboard and Klaus, stretching his hitting streak to 12 games, singled in the other run.

Richards Has Traded Away Three Stars

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

If Baltimore Manager Paul Richards is keeping a record of the players he has traded away, he can call it "Poor Richards' Diary."

Give a look, Richards, who doubles as general manager for the last-place Orioles after leaving the Sox, has palmed off, among others, pitchers Bob Turley and Harry Byrd and outfielder Gene Woodling.

Woodling, traded to Cleveland last week, really boomeranged. He got 4-for-4 and batted in four runs as the Indians' trounced the Orioles 9-2 yesterday.

Byrd, a 30-year-old right-hander bundled off to the White Sox nine days ago, gave just four hits and blanked Washington 7-0. It was his second victory in two starts since leaving the Orioles.

And Turley, the young fire-baller who went to New York's Yankees in an 18-player deal that whipped Woodling and Byrd to Baltimore last winter, fanned six, walked just one and shut out Kansas City on three singles 3-0.

The other American League game was won by the Boston Red Sox without any help from Richards. The bostons whipped Detroit 7-0 behind Frank Sullivan's two-hitter, moving to within one percentage point of the fourth-place Tigers.

Those results—with each winner sweeping a three-game series—left the Yanks out front by two games over the White Sox, who in turn were two ahead of Cleveland. Boston and Detroit are both 10 games behind New York.

In the national, first-place Brooklyn swept three from Chicago by winning 7-4. The Cubs in second place since May 25, slipped one percentage point behind idle Milwaukee.

St. Louis beat Philadelphia 7-1 in the only other game scheduled, dropping the Phils into sixth place behind idle Cincinnati.

Woodling, who Richards had hoped would give the Orioles a big bat but hit only .221 in 47 games, now is batting .444 for Cleveland in six games. The Indians had 15 hits for the second straight day off Baltimore pitching while Bob Feller tossed a four-hitter for his second victory of the year.

Martinez and Varona Fight for Title Try

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Third-ranked welterweight Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., is an 8-5 favorite for his 10-round scrap tonight with the tough-punching Cuban, Chico Varona.

Both are itching to meet the new welter king, Carmen Basilio.

It will be Martinez' first 1955 start. He has contended that a dispute with the boxing managers' guild prevented him from getting fights.

The bout will be televised nationally (NBC) from the War Memorial Auditorium.

Inter-City Golfers Place Third

Lt. Preston Moore Takes Medalist Honors at J.C.

The local entrants to the Inter-City Golf tournament, which entered its third round Thursday afternoon at Jefferson City, fell back to third place, which they had climbed out during the second phase of the play held here last week.

The Sedalia Country Club entrants had held third place from the first afternoon of play in the tournament at Columbia, but the second round here on the local course pushed them into second place.

In the play that started at 1 p.m. Thursday at the Jefferson City Country Club Sedalia dropped their second place spot to Columbia, placing the teams back in their starting ranking order.

The points of the teams and the order in which they are ranked are:

Jefferson City	317
Columbia	279
Sedalia	246
Fulton	238

15 Inning Game Ends With Blues' 6-5 Win

In the first game of the evening of the Industrial League held Thursday night the National Engineers took the measure of the Hudson Hornets by a 5-0 score.

The winning pitcher was Norfleet, giving up only one hit, to Walker the opposing hurler, in completing his shut out.

The second game of the evening was a real thriller with the Adco Blues taking a 6-5 victory over the DeMolays in a 15 inning pitcher's duel.

The Blues led off in the first with two and were immediately tied in the second half of the frame, however, the DeMolays the next 12 innings brought no tallies for either team as it was a see-saw affair between Redmond for the DeMolays and Sterling for the Blues.

Finally in the 14th inning Fisher hit a homer in the first half to start a rally that ended with three Blue's runs. In the last of the frame, however, he DeMolays fought back on hits by Yoeman, Rodick and Mastin and added by a walk by Redmond the score was tied up again 5-5.

In the first of the 15th the Blues scored one man off a walk, an error and a long fly to take the lead and then with one man on third for the DeMolays in the last of the frame put out the fire to take the game, 6-5.

The tilt was the longest of the season and many of the fans thought the best.

Olympic Team Hopefuls Star At AAU Track

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Five world record holders, eight Olympic champions and other stars begin competition today in the National AAU track and field championships — an event rated as the "semi-finals" for selection of the 1956 U.S. Olympic team.

Today's program will include finals in the 100 yard dash, mile run, high jump and shot put.

Former Morgan State star Art Bragg will defend his century crown against a field of sprinters including Jim Golliday of Northwestern, NCAA champ Rod Richards, Pan American Games winner, and Bobby Morrow, Abilene (Tex.) Christian College freshman who's unbeaten in 37 starts.

An "unknown" bidding for honors in the 100 is Thomas Torian of Lane (Tenn.) College who was clocked in 9.4 earlier this year at Nashville. That is the AAU record set last year by Bragg. Mel Patton holds the world mark at 9.3.

The mile run matches Wes Santee, the Kansas cowboy now in the marines, against defending AAU champion, Fred Dwyer. Also in the field is Bobby Seaman of UCLA, who was timed at 4:01.4 this spring at Compton, Calif. The only American collegian ever to beat Santee in the mile, Bobby Tidwell, 23, sophomore at Emporia (Kan.) State College, is also competing.

Santee holds the record of 4:13 at Folsom Field here, a mile above sea level. "It will take about a 4:06 or a 4:07 to win this mile and that's what I'm here to do," Santee added. "I certainly won't try for any 4 minute mark this week. I'll just run to win."

Memphis Gives New Punch To Dixon-Yates

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (P)—The city of Memphis has decided to build its own electric plant rather than accept power from Dixon-Yates. So what happens now?

The City Commission's move yesterday was the ace in the hole for backers of the Tennessee Valley Authority who bitterly oppose any tie up with the private power Dixon-Yates combine.

A new congressional attack on the controversial Dixon-Yates contract seems virtually assured. President Eisenhower, who backed the Dixon-Yates contract solidly, once told a news conference he would like to see Memphis build its own plant. But there was no immediate comment on the Memphis move from high administration officials.

The controversial Dixon-Yates contract was conceived to provide electricity for the Memphis area, replacing TVA electricity used in atom plants.

It was brought forth when TVA said that by 1958 it would not be able to meet the area's power demands and asked congressional authority to build a new steam electric plant. Congress said no.

The Eisenhower administration said the Dixon-Yates plan to build a 107-million-dollar generating plant across the Mississippi River from Memphis would take care of the power problem without requiring federal loans.

Dixon-Yates power would be fed into TVA's public power here, and the Atomic Energy Commission would pay the bill under a long-term contract.

When the Dixon-Yates plan apparently hurdled all congressional obstacles, the Memphis City Commission moved to build its own 100-million-dollar generating plant.

Meeting in special session, the commission ordered the Municipal Utility Division to "act with all dispatch" in getting the plant into the construction stage.

Mayor Frank Tobey said the steam plant will be a 600,000-kilo-watt facility erected on the Mississippi River. It will be completed, he said, before Memphis' contract with the TVA runs out—June 1, 1958.

The mayor said the plant would be financed through revenue bonds and several financial syndicates have expressed interest. He declined to identify them.

Rep. E. C. Gathings (D-Ark) said last night, "This will in no wise affect completion of the Dixon-Yates plant at West Memphis."

"The power will be vitally needed in the latter part of 1957 and 1958 for AEC purposes as well as for general use in the TVA territory," he said.

Wealthy Texan Dies After Making Fortune in Newspaper, Oil

FORT WORTH, Tex. (P)—Amon G. Carter, who rose from poverty to become the colorful multimillionaire publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, one of the major newspapers of the United States, died last night at 75.

He started as a dishwasher and waiter in a Bowie, Tex., boarding house—and was always proud of it.

From there he traveled to the Indian territory of Oklahoma to sell gilt-framed pictures, then to San Francisco as an advertising man, later to Fort Worth as head of his own advertising company.

Then he joined in organization of the newspaper.

In the 1930s, he became a very wealthy oil man and turned his great fortune into philanthropy.

He suffered three heart attacks in 1953, but gained strength, took two cruises and conducted some business, but this year decreased his activities to conserve his strength.

In 1952, he relinquished the presidency to his son Amon Jr., but continued as chairman of the board and publisher of Carter publications.

Medina Urges Guard Over Bill of Rights For Communists, Too

CHARLESTON (P)—"I would rather see Communists freed than lose one provision of the Bill of Rights," Federal Judge Harold R. Medina said yesterday.

The noted jurist stopped briefly at Kanawha Airport en route to address the North Carolina Bar Assn. at Asheville, N. C.

"I am for the Bill of Rights down the line," he said. "That includes the Fifth Amendment. It's easy to let your rights be whittled away a bit at a time. Once they're lost, you never get them back."

Medina, as judge of the U. S. District Court for Southern New York in 1949, presided over the trial of 11 Communists charged with conspiring to advocate overthrow of the government.

Argentine Cabinet Under Peron Resigns

Permitted To Begin Reorganization Of His Government

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 23.—President Juan D. Peron's Cabinet resigned today to permit him to reorganize his government.

Announcement that all 16 ministers had presented their resignations was authorized by the government press secretariat.

Earlier in the day Peron had received several of the ministers in his temporary offices at his official residence.

Makes Broadcast

He arranged a broadcast to the nation tonight, his fourth since the brief and bloody revolt of navy fliers and marines was put down by the army a week ago.

Among visitors at the president's office were Army Minister Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero, Defense Minister Gen. Humberto Sosa Molina, Air Minister Juan Ignacio San Martin, Foreign Minister Jeronimo Remorino and Interior Minister Angel Gabriel Borlenghi.

Peron Remains Boss

Developments of the past two days have demonstrated that Peron remains Argentina's boss despite the revolt and rumors it had weakened his grip.

Diplomatic reports from Montevideo, Uruguay, said the new Peron cabinet will be composed predominantly of military men. At least four members of the old cabinet, including Interior Minister Angel Gabriel Borlenghi who had control of police, will not be reappointed, the reports said.

The informants said also the former navy minister, Rear Adm. Anibal O. Olivieri, would receive a long prison sentence, but not death, for allegedly leading the navy revolt.

Will Build Power Plant Rather Than Accept Dixon-Yates

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (P)—Mayor Frank Tobey called a special meeting of the City Commission for today to authorize the building of a municipal steam plant.

The commission has said repeatedly that Memphis would not buy power from the controversial Dixon-Yates steam plant now under construction at West Memphis, Ark.

It also said that if it became apparent that the Tennessee Valley Authority couldn't furnish Memphis' future power needs, then the city would build its own plant.

The commission said it would follow the recommendation of Thomas H. Allen head of the City Utility Commission.

Sedalia Appreciation Days Begin Today

Friday and Saturday are big days in Sedalia — Appreciation Days — when merchants mark down some of their merchandise, put on extra specials and try to show people of this area they are glad to have them as customers.

There will be free parking, too, because a group of men and women will get down town about 5 a.m. Friday to put paper sacks over parking meters.

Even the youngsters are part of the plans — any children under 16 may get free swim tickets from the merchants for those two days.

Appreciation Days — when the Retail Merchants, the Chamber of Commerce, the City Administration and the Park board join together to make this a special event.

St. Louis Police Organize New Force

ST. LOUIS (P)—The new St. Louis County police department expects to complete selection of its 93-member force within the next week in time to begin operations on the scheduled date July 1.

Waller L. Metcalfe, chairman of the Board of Police Commissioners, announced screening of present deputies was underway and new applicants would be interviewed Friday and Saturday.

The Weather

Generally fair southwest partly cloudy north and east Friday and Saturday. Scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers north and east-central portions. Not much temperature change. High Friday 80 northeast to 90 southwest.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 56.3 rise .1.

Experts On Polio Seek To Carry On Campaign Despite Criticism That The Vaccine Is Not Safe Enough

WASHINGTON, June 23.—A panel of polio experts voted 8-2 today to recommend continuing the Salk vaccination program this summer despite criticism by a few scientists that the vaccine is not safe.

A few hours later the program won another strong endorsement from Surgeon General Leonard Scheele.

Ignore Peace Offer By Red Guerrillas

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya, June 23.—Lt. Gen. Sir Geoffrey Bourne said today Malaya's Communist guerrillas have offered to negotiate peace terms, but the offer is being ignored.

Bourne, the British director of operations against the guerrillas said the offer was an attempt by the Reds to obtain some form of recognition—"and we are not giving it to them."

Trial Opens In Probe Of Bribe Rumor

Query $100,000 Bribe To Govt. Purchasing Heads

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Senate investigators set off today on the trail of a rumored $100,000 bribe to government purchasing officers—and ran into a solid wall of indignant denials.

The question raised as the Senate Investigations subcommittee reopened an inquiry into alleged corruption in armed forces uniform procurement was: did New Yorker Sol Schlesinger pay $100,000 to an Army colonel and two civilian aides to get a 1950 contract?

Refuses To Open Books "Preposterous," snorted Schlesinger, who refused to open his books for the investigators because they "might tend to incriminate me."

"It's all based on myth!" cried Col. Louis H. Shirley, named by subcommittee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy in connection with the rumored payoff.

"I never took a dime off nobody!" protested David Spatt, Shirley's onetime aide.

Kennedy never did say what information led him to ask whether there was a $100,000 payoff in connection with Schlesinger's 1950 contract to make half a million caps for the Air Force.

Does Not Vote On Halt Of Plan Dr. Salk, a panel member, joined in the call for developing a less virulent strain of virus for use in the vaccine. But he elected not to vote on the question of whether to halt the vaccination program temporarily, until a "safer" vaccine can be developed or at least until after the peak polio season in late summer.

As is the practice with most medical men, the experts did a lot of hedging and qualifying, but the general upshot was that the majority felt a youngster would have much less chance of getting polio with the vaccine than without it.

In St. Louis, Basil O'Connor head of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, strongly defended the vaccine's safety and attacked those who favor suspending the inoculation program.

Pella, Vanoni Favorites As Italy Premier

President Seeks Successor For Resigned Scelba

ROME, June 23.—Former Premier Giuseppe Pella and Bud get Minister Ezio Vanoni appeared top favorites as the long search started today for a new Italian Premier.

President Giovanni Gronchi was calling in Italy's senior statesmen and party leaders one by one in conferences on a successor to Mario Scelba.

Fought Communism

The tough little Sicilian foe of communism resigned yesterday, after almost 16 months as Premier. His own Christian Democrat party refused to continue supporting his four-party Center coalition.

It was Italy's fifth government crisis since the late Alcide De Gasperi's eighth successive Cabinet finally was beaten in 1953.

Fails On One-Party Govt.

De Gasperi failed when he stuck grimly to a decision for a one-party government. His Christian Democrats did not have then—and do not have now—a parliamentary majority.

Most observers believe, however, that either Pella or Vanoni would return to a Cabinet of all Christian Democrats. The difference is they might seek pledges of outside support.

Rejects Sole Passport Rights Idea Held By State Department WASHINGTON (P)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today rejected the State Department's claim of exclusive control over issuance of passports.

The court ruled in a unanimous decision that the department's actions in passport cases are subject to judicial review and must conform to the "due process" provision of the Fifth Amendment.

The court held that issuance of a passport "is not a purely political matter" involving foreign affairs. If it were, the court said it would not be subject to court review.

The court said denial of a passport "causes a deprivation of liberty that a citizen otherwise would have." It added:

"The right to travel, to go from place to place as the means of transportation permit, is a natural right subject to the rights of others and to reasonable regulation under law."

"A restraint imposed by the government of the United States upon this liberty, therefore, must conform with the provision of the Fifth Amendment 'that no person shall be deprived of liberty without due process of law.'"

Construction Shows Rise for the Year NEW YORK (P)—Although construction awards in Missouri during May showed a drop, the total for the first five months of the year was 47 per cent ahead of the corresponding period last year.

May awards, the F. W. Dodge Corp. reported today, were 20 per cent below May, 1954, and 29 per cent below April, 1955. Nonresidential was down 48 per cent from May, 1954 and down 31 per cent from April, 1955; residential was up 22 per cent over May, 1954, but down 33 per cent from April, 1955.

SAFB Pilot Lands Plane While Ablaze

Cool Thinking Averts Disaster As Engine Explodes

Expert airmanship and cool thinking averted disaster Thursday at the Sedalia Air Force Base when the No. 3 engine of a B-47 flown by Capt. E. E. Boyd, exploded on takeoff about 3:15 p.m. Thursday.

The aircraft assigned to the 486th Bomb Squadron had just taken off and had gained an altitude of approximately 300 feet when the engine exploded. Capt. Boyd immediately shut off the power to engines No. 2 and 3, which are located near the cockpit on the left wing, and declared an emergency. He then flew the landing pattern, notifying the control tower of the trouble encountered and completed his emergency landing and stop.

The engine was still burning when the plane came to a halt but the fire department waiting on the runway quickly extinguished the flames. Damage to the aircraft was confined to No. 3 engine alone.

Lt. Col. Slavel P. Sabin, 486th commander, stated that "expert handling of the aircraft prevented extensive damage to the aircraft and possible injury to the men on board."

Capt. Boyd lives with his family at 1500 Honeyuckle Road, Sedalia. Capt. James E. Greene, co-pilot of the aircraft, lives at 1623 Honeyuckle Road. Capt. William Ernest, the observer, resides in Warrensburg. A 2C John Timberlake, an armament and electronics specialist, was also aboard the plane.

Police In Search For Ex-Convict In Koenig Killing

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., June 23.—Police today sought ex-convict Frank Buster Wortman, a reputed racketeer boss, for questioning in the slaying of J. Fred Koenig, convicted black marketeer and one-time St. Louis politician.

Koenig's body was found yesterday stuffed in the trunk of his Cadillac car which had been abandoned on a residential street here.

Two associates of Koenig also were sought for questioning. They are Birney T. Chick Haver Jr., 32, and Kenneth Mueller, 22. Their cars were shot up in gangland style about a month ago. Mueller was wounded.

There have been reports Koenig had been allotted some race book-making telephones which later were taken away, causing him to complain that he had been "abused."

Police described the 48-year-old Koenig as an amiable, political type with no gang connections. His 24-year-old son, Fred, plays first base for the Columbus, Ga., baseball club in the South Atlantic League.

Koenig was given an 18-month federal prison sentence in 1944 on a black market charge involving a whisky shipment. He was placed on probation, however.

Police said they had no clues in the shooting. Koenig went to a tavern Monday night with his wife, who said she saw him last as he walked toward a wash room.

Backbone of Civil Defense-- Sedalia Ham Radio Operators Have National Field Day Trials

Sedalia ham radio operators will have their first Field Day since their organization as a part of a national operation of the American Radio Relay League.

The Sedalia club, known as the Amateur Radio Club of Central Missouri, will have all of its members and their equipment at the Optimist Club's cabin south of Smithton at 4 p.m. Saturday for the operation in addition to several mobile units.

The club will use its own equipment and emergency power supply for the operation. The three mobile stations are owned by N. G. Patterson, president of the club, Howard French, and Dr. B. E. Klein.

The group will be rated by the national organization on the number of other stations contacted, the number of transmitters used and the amount of emergency power generated. The operation is in cooperation with the Civil Defense movement.

The Sedalia group organized about five years ago with a monthly meeting held at the Red Cross office, their headquarters. They also have conducted numerous radio classes during this time. The club was recently host to the Missouri Emergency Radio Network at a picnic held at the State Fairgrounds June 5.

The local membership includes: president, N. G. Patterson; secretary, Mrs. Jesse Goist; vice-president, Dr. L. A. Marty; public relations, Dr. B. E. Klein; Garnett Bryan, Bill Fingland, Carl Goist, Tom Gray, Herbert Young, George Curmott, Adolph Belker, Howard French, Mrs. Phyllis French, Harold Vannoy, Joe Allen, Jim Jones, Ronald Kaullen and Bob Heuerman.

The Field Day will last until 4 p.m. Sunday. It is designed to strengthen the ability of amateurs to carry on radio communications during emergencies.

During the 24-hour period radio clubs and individuals, alone or by twos and threes, will establish complete two-way radio stations in remote spots powered by gaso-

ARGENTINE CABINET RESIGNS — Argentine President Juan Peron, right, chats with Gen. Franklin Lucero as they toured bomb-damaged areas of Buenos Aires after aerial strikes by naval planes in the recent short-lived revolt. Lucero, responsible for quelling the disorders, was made "Commander in Chief of the Forces of Repression." To Consider Far East Problems—

US, Britain, France Ready For Discussions At Parley

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The United States, Britain and France are reported ready to discuss Far Eastern problems at the summit conference with Russia next month if the Soviets insist.

But Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's speech before the United Nations anniversary meeting at San Francisco yesterday has dampened hopes that the top-level Big Four conference might ease East-West tensions.

No Intention Of Yielding

In the view of most American officials, Molotov rebuffed old arguments and gave little or no evidence of any Russian intention of yielding on major issues which have divided the Communist and Western worlds.

Although willing to discuss the Far East at the summit meeting, informed officials said the three Western allies have decided not to propose or initiate any such Far East talks themselves.

Three three also were reported to day to have agreed to oppose any Soviet attempt to broaden Far Eastern discussions into a Big Five meeting including Red China.

This joint attitude toward the Far Eastern phase of next month's Big Four meeting is understood to have been laid down by working experts who have met to chart conference strategy.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles reportedly have approved this plan of action.

At a news conference May 11, Eisenhower said he assumed Far East talks themselves.

Chinese Chief Tells Threat To Peace

Urges UN Face It Squarely, Not Yield To 'Appeasement'

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Nationalist China's Foreign Minister, George Yeh, today bitterly denounced communism as an evil menace to world peace. He appealed to the U. N. to face it squarely and not yield to "appeasement."

In an address to the 10th anniversary conference of the U. N., halted at one point by the yavel of the conference president, Yeh blasted the Chinese Communists particularly. He said their regime is based upon war and not peace.

Refers To Formosa Crisis Yeh deleted parts of his prepared text referring to the Formosa crisis and a statement that Peiping has created a military machine with which to threaten its neighbors and the rest of the world. It was the second time in this conference the President, Eileen Van Kleffens, had interrupted a speaker. He halted a Cuban blast at the Soviet Union, yesterday.

The determined-looking Yeh sat down at the end of his speech to a long burst of applause from the public and many delegates.

Earlier France's Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay rejected two major points in Moscow's peace plan. Pinay lined up firmly with continuing efforts to achieve peace and international trust through the U. N.

Pinay said France ruled out the "senselessness" of a neutralized Germany. He also said France refuses to acknowledge that there are foreign military bases in any NATO country.

Reds Forge Ahead In Asia Yeh read a large section of his speech attacking communism and saying it had been checked in Europe by a policy of strength. In Asia, however, he said Communist expansionism forges ahead with renewed vigor and a state of tension exists.

He assailed the regime of Mao Tse-tung for, he charged, "brainwashing" intellectuals, dumping narcotics on the world, and making religion an instrument of state policy.

Van Kleffens interrupted to say Yeh was straying from the purpose of the commemorative meeting and asked him to hold it.

Yeh, who had informed Van Kleffens of his speech during the morning, replied that he had not referred to any member of the U. N., nor had he accused any particular government represented in that meeting.

States Views Of French "I feel that I have the right to state the views of my government in regard to the events of the last 10 years and of the future," he said. "A number of delegates have made reference to the question of Chinese representation. I have not replied and I do not intend to reply."

He said he would continue and would use "appropriate re-trait" in observing the rulings of the chairman.

Yeh said the U. N. is faced by a challenge stronger than that which confronted the League of Nations in the days of Mussolini's attack on Ethiopia.

"Let us hope that the United Nations, unlike its predecessor, will face up to the Communist challenge squarely and without equivocation," he said. "Let us hope that the United Nations will not let itself be turned into an instrument of appeasement."

Arrested for Error In Newspaper Story BERLIN (P)—Four employees of Communist East Germany's leading newspaper were reported behind bars today for printing an "error" which completely reversed the party line on peace.

Their newspaper, the party organ Neues Deutschland, yesterday printed this statement:

"From day to day, in all lands of the earth, the number of persons who have signed the Vienna (Communist) appeal for preparation of an atomic war is growing."

What had actually been meant, the paper explained today, was "prevention" of an atomic war, not "preparation."

Miss Hollenbeck, Richard Easter Are Wed In Afternoon Ceremony

Before an altar set with fan shaped arrangements of palms and white gladioli, stock and daisies and lighted tapers in seven branch candelabra, Miss Rowena Mae Hollenbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Hollenbeck, LaMonte, became the bride of Mr. Richard Currie Easter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Easter, Borger, Tex., at the LaMonte Methodist Church.

The double ring service was read by the Rev. Everett Statler at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 5. S-Sgt. Robert Jendwyler, SAFB, pianist, played "Clair de Lune", "Through the Years", "Liebestraum", "The Lord's Prayer" and the traditional wedding marches. Miss Una Fay Hudson, LaMonte, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly".

Miss Mildred Louise Hollenbeck, Green Ridge, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Robert Brumley, Webster Groves, wearing gowns of yellow taffeta with wrist corsages of blue daisies, lighted the candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white imported lace over white net and satin with accordin pleated skirt. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline which was bordered with lace medallions and long sleeves which came to points over the hands. Her veil of nylon net edged with lace fell from an iridescent tiara. The strand of pearls which she wore was a gift of the groom. She carried a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis.

Miss William Abell, Amarillo, Tex., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown of aqua taffeta was similar in design to that worn by the bride. She carried yellow daisies.

Miss Gerri Heureman, Kansas City, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of pink taffeta and carried yellow daisies.

Mr. William Easter, Borger, Tex., served as his brother's best man, S-Sgt. Bruce Goldner, SAFB, was groomsmen, Mr. William Abell, Amarillo, Tex., and Mr. Gary Easter, Borger, Tex., ushered at the wedding.

Master Billy Abell and Master Ralph Abell, nephews of the bride, carried the rings on satin pillows.

The bride's mother was attired in a powder blue lace dress with white accessories and yellow rosebud corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose lace dress, black accessories and white rosebud corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth, held the four-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was encircled with pink and white daisies and woodwardia fern. Pink tapers in crystal candelabra completed the table decorations.

Miss Alma Jean Hall, Sedalia, Miss Carolyn Lettwich, Hughesville, and Miss Evelyn Williams, LaMonte, served. Mrs. Eldon Rieckhoff, Hughesville, was in charge of the guest book.

For traveling the bride chose a pink linen suit with wedgewood blue and white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid. They left on a wedding trip to Colorado.

After June 18 they will be at home in Borger, Tex.

The bride completed a two-year secretarial course at CMSC where she was a member of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority. For the past year she was employed as a secretary at Sedalia Air Force Base.

The groom attended Frank Phillips College, Borger, Tex., and served with the Air Force for four years. He is employed by Natural Gas Pipeline Co. in Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Blaue

50th Wedding Day Is Observed By E. H. Blaues

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Blaue, 1318 South Carr, observed their 50th wedding anniversary last Sunday, June 12.

Miss Clara Duerer and Mr. Blaue were married June 11, 1905, at the home of the bride's uncle in Union. They resided in Union where Mr. Blaue was employed by the Rock Island Railroad, moving to Kansas in 1906. They resided there 12 years and upon their return to Missouri purchased a farm west of Sedalia, where they lived until 1945, at which time they moved into town.

They are the parents of four children, Mrs. Loren Arnett, Route 5, Arnold E. Blaue, 410 West Broadway, Mrs. Charles Pine, Clovis, Calif., and Howard, who passed away in March, 1954. They have 11 grandchildren. Mrs. Pine, who was unable to be home for the celebration, called her parents via long distance Sunday morning and her children sang "Happy Anniversary" to their grandparents.

A dinner for the family and out of town relatives was served at noon at the home of their granddaughter, Mrs. Melvin White and Mr. White, 1319 South Carr.

The dining room table was covered with a white linen cloth, which was a wedding gift 50 years ago.

Open house was held at the Blaue home that afternoon from two until four. Crystal candelabra holding yellow tapers and rosebuds were on either side of the three-tiered wedding cake, which centered the lace covered table. Bouquets of mixed yellow flowers were used as decorations throughout the home.

Miss Janie Peoples presided at the punch bowl and Miss Delta Mae Blaue was in charge of the guest book.

Golden wedding anniversaries are not uncommon in Mrs. Blaue's family as her parents observed their 66th anniversary and one sister, Mrs. William Roehrs and Mr. Roehrs of Washington, and a brother, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Duerer, Beaufort, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversaries in 1947 and 1954 respectively. Mr. Blaue is the only member of his family to observe the golden wedding anniversary.

Out of town guests were: Mr. Blaue's brothers, Henry Blaue, Calumet, Ia.; Mrs. Blaue's brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Duerer, Leslie, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Duerer, Beaufort, her sisters, Mrs. Ida Holman, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Frolker, Mr. and Mrs. August Wehmiller, Gerald; Mrs. Annie Bauche, Owensville, and Mrs. Lizzie Roehrs, Washington; their grandson, Gary Arnett, and Miss Janie Peoples, Kansas City; Mrs. Dorothy Lee Blaue and David, Chicago, Ill.; Miss Lois Boston, Gerald; Miss Ella Duerer, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kenaus and sons, Beaufort; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jasper and family, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Roehrs, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Duerer and family, St. Louis, and Mrs. Olga Moise, Los Angeles, Calif.
